16 Seniors To Student Teach In 6 Schools

The home economics department has placed 16 senior home economics majors as student teachers in six South Carolina towns for the second semester of the school year. For the first six weeks' period of the semester the student girls are teaching at five different towns and two girls who are teaching at the Training School here in Rock Hill.

Gladya League and Carolyn Ables are student teachers at the high school in Corners. Ann Henson and Reah Hardie are working together at Fairforest. Iris Fouché is teaching at Kershaw, Emma Edens is at Sharon, and Rachel Livingston is at York.

Gene Nese and Marietta Prince will be student teachers at the Training School for the entire semester.

The seven girls who will be teaching the second six weeks' period will fill the places left by the first group.

Mary Hand and Margaret Kellahan will teach at Corners. Reba Keisler and Betty Thackston will go to Fairforest. Mary Allen McKie will teach at Kershaw, Duane Marcus will teach at Sharon, and Beth Burrell will go to York.

15 Home Ec Majors In Practice Houses

There are 15 senior home economics majors living in the Home Management cottage and the Home Management house during the first six weeks' period of the semester.

The girls living in the Cottage are Doris Bulwark, Laurene Buist, Margaret Kellahan, Anne McKel, Margaret McKie, Betty Thackston, and Reba Keisler.

Girls living in the Home Management House are Beth Burrell, Mary Jane Campbell, Cornelia Dobson, and Mary Elizabeth Hand. Also Duchs Marcus, Jeanette Randall, Catherine Smith, and Sarah Sneed are in the Home Management house this semester.

'Met' Members Interviewed

'Met' Artists Ensemble Features Viennese, French, Czech, And French-Canadian Accents

By MARGARET GALL

"We are of the 'Met,' but not the 'Met,'" laughingly said Jarmila Novotna, soprano of the Metropolitan Artists Ensemble that presented the entertaining program of operatic scenes Friday night, January 31, in the College auditorium.

Each of the artists of the group is a comparative stranger to America. Miss Novotna has been in this country only seven years; Miss Glaz, nine years; Mr. Singher, four years, and Mr. Gerard, three years. Jarmila Novotna, Czechoslovakian prima donna, made her Metropolitan debut in "La Bohème" in January, 1940. Her charming personality and sparkling smile have obtained for her a varied career as a concert and opera star as well as a motion picture and dramatic artist. In addition to these, she is the mother of two "adorable little children" and in private life is Mrs. George Daubek.

Likes Rock Hill

"I do not see how anyone can live in a large, crowded city like New York when they have such a nice, quiet little place to come to as Rock Hill," exclaimed Herta Glaz, black-haired Viennese contralto of the Ensemble. Miss Glaz had many adjectives of admiration for the South. She said with her charming accent, "You have such a beautiful college here—I would like to stay for a while with you." Miss Glaz is the unmarried lady of the quartet. She is an "outdoor girl" as well as an artist, owning a ranch in New Mexico. When asked if she was planning to return to Vienna soon, she replied, "No, I am going the other way. I am going to Australia for a tour very soon after I return to New York."

Jacques Gerard, reticent French-Canadian tenor of the group, admitted that he is the only single member of the four. He has been in this country for a shorter time than the others, and likes it very much. "I am a Frenchman—and I cannot hide it," smiled Marial Singher, attractive, friendly baritone of the Ensemble. Mr. Singher has a wife and two children who are now living in New York. He confided, however, that he has been asked to return to his "mother house," the Paris Opera, and will probably take his family back with him.

The members of the quartet are in the process of a month's tour of this country and also Canada where they will give four concerts in a week. They sang at several places in North Carolina and Virginia before entering South Carolina for appearances at Spartanburg and here. Their next stop will be San Antonio, Tex., after which they will head northward to Canada.

Masquers To Present Plays February 12

Masquers, campus dramatic club, will present three one-act plays February 12, at eight o'clock in the College auditorium.

The first of these plays, a psychological mystery, is "The Case of the Weird Sisters." Margaret Rallings is directing this play and the cast includes: Charlotte, Rita Ness; Enid, Virginia Fouché; Marie, Debra Austin; Bessie, Lillian Adams; and Marian, Betty Jordan.

The comedy, "Woman's Page (Uncensored)" is directed by Hilda Proctor. Taking part in the production are Mary Carson, innay as Dorothy; June Smith, profit as Dorothy; Margaret Ness as Dorothy; and Margaret Ness as Dorothy. Assembly To Feature Skits On Etiquette

The assembly program for Tuesday, February 11, will feature a series of six skits furthering the etiquette week program, according to Jane Gardiner, chairman of the Etiquette week.

The skits, which will be presented by the six dormitories, will emphasize proper etiquette at all times. Senior hall's skit will deal with etiquette while out in town; Ban-dit will play manners while traveling; Margaret Ness will feature classroom conduct; McLaughlin will emphasize etiquette in the Dining room; Roddey will further conduct on the campus, and Breeze will stress thoughtfulness in the dormitory.

Elizabeth Allen, mistress of ceremonies, will be supported by Nancy Tillingshast, "straight man." Barbara Burns and Jean Carson Brown are co-directors of the program.

14 Enter Winthrop's New Term

Seven new students have entered Winthrop for the 1947 term and seven former Winthrop students have returned this semester, according to an announcement from the office of the Registrar.

Students entering Winthrop for the first time are Olga Baldassari, New York, N. Y.; Nan Horton, Heath Springs; Georgia Perine Mitchell of Branchville, transfer from North Greenville Junior college; Elizabeth Morris, Columbia, transfer from the University of South Carolina; Mrs. Georgia Hinnant, Rock Hill; Mrs. Nelle T. Moss, Rock Hill, and Jayne Graf of Johnson City, Tenn., transfer from Sacred Heart Junior College in Belmont, N. C.

Returning to Winthrop for further study are Patricia Ann Mintz of Blackburg; Mrs. Katie Avinger Myers, Eutawville; Jean Wise, Tenton; Nancy Schultz, Rock Hill; Betty Frank, Seneca; Frederica Faurey, Laurinburg, N. C., and Vera Dubose of Manning.

Dean Hudson Appears Here February 10

Dean Hudson and his orchestra will be sponsored by the Student Government Association Dance committee in a concert here on Monday night, February 10, at 7:30 p. m. in the College auditorium.

Featured with the popular name band will be Frances Colwell, the "Florida Songbird"; Lenny Love, piano stylist; Sonny Stockton, tenor; Johnny Davis, trumpeter; Frank Castles, comedian singer; and the famous Under Glee Club. The Dean Hudson band has been playing at the Roseland Ballroom in New York for an extended engagement. Prior to playing there the band appeared at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club at Virginia Beach, George Hamid's Atlantic City Steel Pier, and the Roosevelt hotel in New Orleans.

An admission of 25 cents for students and 50 cents for others wishing to attend will be charged for the concert Monday night.

Sims Names 6 To Dance Committee

A College Dance committee has recently been appointed by President Henry R. Sims to work in cooperation with the Student Government association Dance committee, according to Dr. Austin Venable, chairman of the new committee.

Other members are Dr. Brooks Anderson, Mrs. Ethel Moyers, Mrs. Polly Moore, Miss Mary McCown, Billye Reddie, chairman of the SGA Dance committee, Dorothy Fant, and Katherine McConnell, members of the Student Government Association Dance committee.

The functions of the newly appointed group will be to formulate and enforce regulations governing the dance and to arrange some basis for admission.

Also, the committee members will consider the proper regulations governing student attendance at dances and drinking and smoking of young men attending.

SYMPHONY HERE FEBRUARY 14

The National Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Hans Kindler, will appear as the seventh number on the Winthrop College Artists Course series in the College auditorium, Friday night, February 14.

The orchestra, founded and conducted by the Dutch-born, Hans Kindler, was organized 15 years ago in Washington, D. C. It has played in Rock Hill several times before.

15 January Graduates Are Listed

Fifteen January, 1947 graduates, who will receive their degrees at the regular graduation exercises June 1, have been announced by John G. Kelly, Registrar.

Those who will receive AB degrees are: Josephine Hanna Breeze of Pickens; Annie Laurie Bryant of Greenwood; Mary Lay Ewing of Augusta, Ga.; Elizabeth Ferguson Gudelock of Winbro; Barbara Vernon McClachern of Dillon; Betty Delmore Slough of Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. Clara Grimsley Taylor of Spartanburg; Ross Weinberg of Sumter, and Martha Minerva Windley of Mullins.

Candidates for BS degrees include Lillian Hildreth Gettys, who received her degree from McCormick; Veda Evelyn Kiser, home economics major from Jacksonboro; Anne Jake Morgan, home economics major from Greenville; Gertrude Cauthen, commerce major from Rock Hill; Myrtle Eugenia O'Neil, home economics major from Pickens, and Alva Novice Nichols, commerce major from Ninety-Six.

Alba Nichols, Anne Morgan, Myrtle O'Neil, Josephine Hanna, and Mrs. Claire Taylor have been acting teaching positions in Monroe, N. C.; Greenville, Campobello, Gastonia, N. C., and Florence, respectively. Rosa Weinburg plans to continue her studies at a school of nursing, and Betty Slough is remaining at Winthrop for further study. Gertrude Cauthen will continue her position in the Registrar's office here. Veda Kiser has been made Assistant Home Demonstration agent for Union county. She began her duties February 1.

Etiquette In Dining Hall Is Stressed

Gardiner, Stanley, Jones, McCown, and Chairmen Formulated Final Plans

Etiquette week on the Winthrop campus will begin Monday, February 10, and continue through Saturday, February 15. Policies set up during a similar campaign carried out last year and new ideas gained from a student opinion poll are to be followed.

Sponsoring Etiquette week are: chairman, Jane Gardiner, social chairman of the dormitories; Dining hall committee members, Mary Stanley, president of the Student Government association; Miss Anne D. Jones, hostess of Margaret Nance hall and Miss Mary McCown, hostess of Senior hall.

Dining Hall Etiquette Stressed

Dining hall conditions are to be a major phase of the program again this year. Printed sheets accentuating different phases of etiquette in the Dining hall will be placed on each table every day. Students are to dress in full uniform for the dinner proceeding the artist course on Friday, February 14. Every girl is asked to look her best in navy blue for this event.

Policies Outlined

Following last year in the Dining hall are to be given new emphasis.

Certification Exams To Be Held Saturday

The National Teachers' Certification examinations are scheduled to be held tomorrow, February 8 from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. in the gym and in Rooms 203 and 205 in the Administration building. One hundred and ninety-two Winthrop seniors and 101 teachers already employed will take the exams, according to John G. Kelly, Registrar.

Following is a list of patterns that the examinations will follow: non verbal reasoning, professional formation, English expression, verbal comprehension, and general culture, which includes history, literature, mathematics, fine arts, languages, and science.

Teachers certified in South Carolina are grouped in classes according to the amount of college credit that they have, and each class is then broken down into groups according to their examination scores.

The certificate that the teacher holds depends on the number of years of college work that she holds, her total score on the National Teachers' Examination, and her number of years of teaching experience in the public schools of South Carolina. Only college seniors are rated on their personal and professional qualities.

Summer School Plans Stated

The summer school session of Winthrop college will begin June 11 and extend through August 2, according to Dr. Herman L. Frick, head of the summer school session. Those who wish to attend summer school in which students may take three courses or nine semester hours of credit.

A Winthrop summer school bulletin will be published about April 1. Within the next two weeks students will be given questionnaires to fill out. The courses that they expect to take will be checked on these blanks.

This Means You!

VARIOUS ORGANIZATIONS ARE ENDEAVORING to interest women in politics. One such organization is the Women's Political Conference which was originated by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The aim of this organization is to promote greater activity of women in government affairs.

In a recent speech before the South Carolina White House Conference in Columbia, Governor J. Strom Thurmond stated that he favored the active participation of more women in politics and that he especially noted women's serving on governmental committees. This is indeed a challenge to every woman.

Each Winthrop student has many excellent opportunities to equip herself for a vital role in politics after graduation. There are several history and government courses offered which are highly informative and invaluable to any student interested in political affairs. Students who have learned to vote intelligently in campus elections obtain valuable experience in this important phase of a democracy at work.

The students at Rockford College held a mock meeting of the United States Senate after studying the Congressional Record and other material. The convention covered labor, OPA rent control and international policy. Perhaps such an experiment on the Winthrop campus would prove entertaining and educational.

The need for participation of women in politics in national, state and local political affairs is recognized. Winthrop students should begin their "basic training" by taking courses slanted toward an understanding of politics, by exercising their right to vote, and by reading newspapers and news magazines daily.

Library Services Offered

WINTHROP STUDENTS ARE FORTUNATE to have access to a well equipped Carnegie library, and the recent inclusion of two new departments, namely the Reference and Periodical departments, increases the advantages offered to each student.

The Reference department's prime aim is to give guidance to students, faculty members and others in solving difficult reference problems. Through the use of this department a student can achieve a more thorough class preparation, and can obtain help in locating material for research papers, term papers, and any other special interest.

Similar to the work of the Reference department is the Periodical department which keeps either a student or a staff member on duty at all times to help students locate newspapers and magazine articles. Use of the valuable material in the Document room would also help students taking social science courses.

All of these services make it easier for the student to do her class and research work more thoroughly and comprehensively. They are there for you. Why not take advantage of them? The fact that a student has had the course "The Use of the Library" does not mean that she is expected to be completely independent in excavating material. The aim of this course is to train students for an intelligent use of the College library. Now when she has exhausted her resources, it is hoped that she will seek information at the Reference and Periodical desks.

Book Room Congestion

MOST WINTHROP STUDENTS BECOME ALLERGIC TO STANDING IN LINES early in their college career. Perhaps the most annoying and the most tedious is the bi-annual Book Room line which inevitably develops into confusion beyond description. As a result, many girls are several days late in obtaining their books.

THE JOHNSONIAN believes that this situation could be eliminated through the cooperation of faculty and students. The solution sounds simple, although putting it into practice will require time.

Instead of obtaining all textbooks from the Book Room, the books could be distributed to the students the first day their classes met, and they would be required to return the books the day of their exam. The student would not have to wait for filing her book card and would be responsible for seeing that the book was inserted in the book at the end of the semester. This plan is followed by some departments and some faculty members now, and it works well.

As to storage, each department has office space which could be used to store the books until needed. The books could also be kept in cabinets or book cases in the classroom where the subjects are taught. This would eliminate the damage caused the books when they are returned to the Book Room and piled outside on the floor.

Textbooks which are not used frequently could be left in the Book Room. The less the demand for books, the less confusion there would be. It is evident that the congestion needs to be altered in some way, and the issuing of books through the classroom would definitely solve this problem which occurs twice every school year.

Concerning the Placement Bureau

OUTSTANDING AMONG THE MANY SERVICES OFFERED to the students by the College is the work of the Placement Bureau which is conducted by the Registrar. The Bureau aids members of the senior class and two-year commerce students to obtain positions after graduation. Prospective graduates are given information concerning openings and interviews are arranged with employers. These services are available to former graduates also.

The College does not feel that its duty has been discharged until each graduate has been placed in a position where it is believed she will be successful. Not only are girls placed in positions in the teaching profession, but positions in the business and industrial fields are filled as well.

The Bureau maintains close contact with schools and various business firms. School superintendents and employers in other fields often request the names of graduates who have a specified scholastic average and who have participated in extra curricular activities. Therefore, the Bureau arranges interviews with only those girls who meet the employers' qualifications. This careful consideration is designed to build up the prestige of the College with employers, and to participate in extra curricular activities in order that they will satisfactorily meet the qualifications specified by various employers.

What We Live By

The Johnsonians want to deserve a reputation for accuracy, thoroughness, and fairness in covering the Winthrop college campus. You will do us a favor if you call our attention to any failure in measuring up to any of these fundamentals of good newspapering.

Casually

By MARIAN BAKER

After a seven-weeks' vacation, THE JOHNSONIAN staff is prepared once again to give its readers "all the that's fit to print," to quote the New York Sun's slogan. A. This second installment of TJ features a few changes which it is hoped you will like and approve. In the meantime, while every member of the student body waits hopefully and prayerfully for that sheet of paper headed "Report for Term ending January 16, 1947," the campus agenda is filled with activities which deserve our attention.

A "Capacitated" February is the short-month of the year, so maybe that accounts for its peak of capacity of musical, religious, social and intellectual events. The appearance of the Charles Weidman Dance company Monday night in the College auditorium started the proverbial ball rolling, and a fine start it was! Campus comment was highly favorable.

Musical lovers are in for two more treats this month. Valentine's Day finds the National Symphony under the direction of Hans Kunder on the campus for a concert. Eugene List, renowned pianist, follows the Symphony with an appearance here February 21.

Coming Up! Religious Emphasis Week, always an eagerly anticipated event, has been scheduled from February 19-25. Each year the YWCA brings interesting speakers to the campus and the discussions in Johnson hall and the nightly dormitory parleys have proved themselves to be entertaining, helpful and educational. Plan now to attend these worthwhile, informative discussions.

Formal Dance The Winthrop formal Stated on February 22 is another anticipated event in this realm of women. The return engagement of Billy Knauft seems to mean with everyone's approval. Each year the YWCA brings interesting speakers to the campus and the discussions in Johnson hall and the nightly dormitory parleys have proved themselves to be entertaining, helpful and educational. Plan now to attend these worthwhile, informative discussions.

This Week

From the President of the Student Government Association

We all agree that check-ups aren't much fun. But they have been proved necessary on this campus, and since we must have them, let's try to make them successful. Most of you have been very cooperative, but there are a few girls who complain about the loss of time resulting from check-ups, and sometimes cause the whole check-up to go wrong because they don't remain in their proper places. Let's try to remember that if everyone cooperates, the procedure will be much less tiresome.

In the future, there will be a book on the desk in the office of Jones hall in which Winthrop students must sign when they are visiting occupants after 7:30 p. m. in order to avoid checking the whole hall during a check-up.

I want to thank you on behalf of the check-up committee for your cooperation in the past, and I hope to encourage you to help make our check-ups successful in the future. M.S.

Add Libbing With Lib

This may be corny, but it is the only way I could dash into this thing! This semester this column will contain such things as a letter to week, department gags, predictions, household hints, advice to the lovelorn, student misfortunes, and if I get desperate, there's always the faculty! There will also be some very obvious things that this column will not contain due to circumstances completely beyond my control.

My friends, and if you've read this far—you are my friends! Let us welcome in the new semester with this thought: If at once you don't succeed, try, try, a gun!

Plug For Etiquette Week
Dining Room Standards

Let's Invite "Jimmy"

IS OUR "ETTA-KETT" WEAK?

Dear Campus Town Hall,

Last year a campus-wide etiquette program was started in hopes of helping the student body become etiquette conscious. Next week has been set aside as Etiquette Week in which Winthrop students can get some intensive practice at "minding their manners." During this week it is our aim to make our campus etiquette conscious—in other words, to be on our "toes" and to watch our "i's" and "q's."

Winthrop College is a State supported school and our behavior during our four years in navy and white reflects on this institution. It is for this reason and for our own future use that Etiquette Week has been established.

Our behavior is determined to a large degree by our environment, and four years at college is an environment in itself. Here's an opportunity for us to develop good habits of conduct, so let's all work together for a successful Etiquette Week throughout the year!

Sincerely,

Jane Gardiner

Etiquette Week Chairman

NEW DINING ROOM CHAIRMAN REMINDS US!

Dear Campus Town Hall,

Little do we realize that what we do, what we say, and how we act will make us the women we will be tomorrow; therefore, stop and ask yourself, "Do I think of the other person or of just myself?"

This letter is to remind you of several important items that we are apt to become negligent about.

First, be on time for meals—the blessing will be sung as soon as the majority of girls are in the Dining hall. Only the necessary and important notices which have been approved by Dean Hardin will be announced. No phone calls are to be made from a dormitory to the Dining room except in cases of an emergency—and this means illness, accidents, or death.

No second helpings will be available until five minutes after grace has been sung. During this time all announcements will be made—except at breakfast. Keep a neat clean table by putting coffee pots on racks which are provided for them. Do not "dump" bread on the table cloth. If, for any reason, you do not like cornbread, take it back to the kitchen and the cooks will exchange it for light bread. Also do not take food from other tables.

There is no such thing as RESERVING places at a table when tables are open. "Open tables" mean that girls may sit anywhere there is a vacancy!

Is it the courteous thing to do to serve your plate before the blessing is sung, or to sit, laugh, and talk while it is being sung?

Let's remember to constantly think of our manners and therefore make the Dining hall an enjoyable place! I will appreciate any suggestions that you may have to offer concerning the improvement of the Dining room.

Sincerely,

Betty Cannon

Dining Room Chairman

WHY NOT A NATIVE SON?

Dear Campus Town Hall,

In talking with some of the girls about lectures and assembly speakers that we have at Winthrop, the possibility came to my mind of having James F. Byrnes come as a guest speaker. Being a native South Carolinian and a prominent leader in world affairs, he would be a particularly interesting and informative speaker.

Although he has resigned his position as Secretary of State because of his health, I believe that he would seriously consider an invitation to speak to the student body of South Carolina's college for women.

Since Winthrop has such a reputation of having prominent leaders on the campus, wouldn't it be in keeping to play host to South Carolina's outstanding citizen?

Sincerely,

Anne Reel

Outside These Gates

By JACKIE McMILLAN

"The time for your columnist (still wet behind the ears) to step with you once more 'outside these gates' and take a peek at what the new year has in store.

OH, TO BE A STAR!

Robert Montgomery, as both the star and director, becomes a gentleman in the limelight with his "Lady In The Lake." You of the audience (with the aid of a revolutionary new camera technique) step into the role of private detective Philip Marlowe, one to get soaked on the jaw, kissed by a luscious blonde, and smashed up in a car "flying low" at seventy miles an hour.

Marjorie Kinnan Rawling's Pulitzer Prize novel, The Yearling, has been brought to the screen with Claude Jarman, Jr. playing the appealing Jody, a nature loving young man who grows up in the backwoods of Florida. HERO WORSHIP

Almost every year a new book on the life of Abraham Lincoln appears. This year Paul Angle has compiled The Lincoln Reader, a group of selections taken from biographies of Lincoln by Sanburg, Ida Tarbell, Herndon, Gideon Well, Nicolson, Hay, etc. These contributions are tied together to form a chronological whole, covering Lincoln's life from his birth to his death.

Student Activities Fee Committee Assigns $7,150.00

Campus Organizations Receive Allotments Made Possible By Student Fees

A total of $7,150.00 has been allocated to organizations on the campus by the Student Activities Fee Committee of 1946-47, with R. Brice Waters, administrative director, presiding as chairman of the committee.

The organizations and the amounts allocated them by the committee are: Student Government association, $815.00; YWCA, $350.00; Athletic association, $550.00; The Johnsonian, $2,100; The Journal, $900.00; Dormitory Social Fund $960.00; Town Girls' association, $75.00; and $400.00 to each of the four classes.

Committee Members

Members of the Allotments committee are Mr. A. M. Graham, business manager, Miss Margaret Hess, head of the Biology department, Miss Julia Post, head of the physical education department, Mrs. Frances L. Spain, librarian, Margaret Gall, Jean Graham, Margaret Jones, Whitney Lawrence, and Charlotte Patterson.

Faculty members of the committee were elected by the faculty, and the student members were elected by the Senate.

Paid By Students

Each student pays $9 a year for her activity fee, $4 of which is used for her subscription to The Tatler, and the remaining $5 is divided among the activities above. The Student Activities Fee committee recommends to the President of the College the distributions among student organizations.

Graham Reports On Home Ec Workshop

At the Phi U meeting held January 30, Dorothy Graham spoke on the home economics workshop in Atlanta. She attended the College Home Economics Workshop held in Atlanta, Ga., October 4-5, 1946.

The purpose of this meeting was to discuss club problems and find out what other clubs were doing. The discussion in Atlanta centered on how to plan club programs and activities, money-making plans, gaining interest, and participation in regional and national programs.

Plans made for the semester include a trip to the Rock Hill Printing and Finishing Co., a Valentine party on February 13, and a Red Cross dress to be made by each member for a foreign girl.

Post's Cats Inaugurate Hobby Show

The show cases of the library have been turned over to the display of various hobbies of the students and teachers of Winthrop. It was announced by Mrs. Frances L. Spain, librarian.

The first hobby to be displayed is the miniature cat collection of Miss Julia H. Post, head of the physical education department. The collection includes over 200 cats of varying sizes and compositions. Miss Post states that she began her hobby when a friend gave her a cat and she continued adding to the small beginning.

Some of the collection are prized antiques. One is at least 80 years old, and another is the reproduction of the famous "Sleeping Cat" in the Temple of Nike. A third is a prized reproduction of an early Egyptian cat of 430 B. C.

"When you get into a collection you do more than gather items. You learn a lot about the items you are collecting," said Miss Post.

The next display will feature Miss Dema Lochhead's dolls. Miss Lochhead has gathered these dolls during her travels abroad.

4-H Fashion Show To Feature Stylist

The Winthrop college 4-H club will sponsor a fashion show at 4-H clothing projects to be given at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday, February 11, in the small auditorium of the Music conservatory.

Miss Jane Gibbs, 4-H club stylist, with the Simplicity Pattern company, is in charge of the event, and in addition to the show, she will talk on up-to-date fabrics, colors, and accessories. York county 4-H club members, 4-H club leaders and Home Demonstration members have been invited to attend.

The models have been selected from the Winthrop college 4-H club and from the State Home Demonstration office personnel.

Weidman Gives Reporter Facts About His Dance Ensemble; Master Class Conducted

By SYBIL DRAKEFORD

Granddaughter Club To Invite Guests To WC

February 14-16 has been designated by the Granddaughters as "Mother-Daughter" week end, according to Miss Ruth Williams, alumnae executive secretary. Granddaughters have the opportunity to invite their mothers to visit them as guests of the College. If a student's mother cannot come, she may ask an aunt, sister, or cousin who has attended Winthrop.

A program of activities has been planned for the week end. These activities will begin on Friday night with supper at 6:00 p. m. and the Artist Course series at 8:00 p. m. On Saturday morning a tour of the campus will be conducted. After lunch a program and reception will be held in Johnson hall. The movie will provide the entertainment for Saturday night.

At 9:30 on Sunday morning, services will be held in the Little Chapel. Miss Leila Russell, who was connected with Winthrop college for 50 years, will conduct these services.

The Charles Weidman Dance Ensemble, presented on February 3 as the third artist course of the year, is composed of 12 members who were chosen by the well known American Concert dance artist from his own dancing school in New York. Mr. Weidman stated in an interview that he organized his own dance group about a year ago. He was connected with Doris Humphrey until she retired from the dancing profession. "My dance group practices four to five hours daily," said Mr. Weidman. In regard to dieting for the small waistline, Mr. Weidman stated that it is not necessary unless the dancer has decided tendencies toward excessive weight.

Audience Applauds Hamilton

Peter Hamilton, featured dancer of the group, received a tumultuous applause when he gave his choreography of the sensational Jesse James. Mr. Hamilton seems to be a versatile member, having taught mathematics and history in high school. He was a tennis instructor at a summer camp when he became interested in dancing. Robert Crawley narrated Abe Lincoln in "A House Divided." Many WC students said they thought that his voice resembled that of the typical southerner, Vincent Price, Hollywood star.

Conducts Class

The dance group is now on a transcontinental tour and is booked for performances through March. Mr. Weidman stated that he would be back in New York for his school session this summer.

Pfohl To Hold Alto Tryouts February 10-15

Miss Katherine Pfohl, director of the training choir, will hold tryouts in her studio next week. Tryouts will be held on Monday and Thursday afternoons, February 10 and 13, from 3 to 5 o'clock, and Wednesday and Saturday mornings, February 12 and 15, from 8:45 to 10 o'clock.

She requests that students sign on the Conservatory bulletin board or contact her in the studio for a more convenient hearing. "I consider the Winthrop choir's part in sight reading above the average and would like to welcome all interested 'part' singers to audition for future choral work," stated Miss Pfohl.

The choir is beginning the new semester with rehearsals for Easter music from "The Messiah," in April tour in South Carolina, and an April appearance in Columbia with the All State College chorus. The choir is also planning a short Mozart opera and a commencement program of both secular and sacred choruses.

Art Club Names Social Chairman

Marjorie Harrell, sponsor, from Florence, was elected social chairman of Brush and Palette campus art club, at the regular meeting on February 4, according to Fran Griffin, president of the club. Miss Harrell replaces Claudia Ann Summers, who resigned recently.

The club made plans for a spaghetti supper to be held at the Shack February 13, and during the activity period, the members drew tally cards for the Red Cross.

200 Can Get WC Infirmary "Flu" Serum

The Winthrop college infirmary has been able to secure enough influenza serum to immunize 200 students, according to Dr. S. H. Shippey, College physician.

This serum was perfected in 1945, tested with a group of the armed forces, and has proved 75 per cent effective. It is believed that the immunization lasts about one year," Dr. Shippey stated.

Dr. Shippey urges that those girls who are particularly susceptible to respiratory diseases take it, and all those who wish to, may also volunteer. If the serum proves effective, the College will purchase more.

The reactions are reported to be mild in most cases, but the serum should be taken just before a 12 hour resting period.

Artemis Club Is Organized

The Artemis club was organized by the Greek students of Winthrop college with the purpose of bettering their understanding of Greek culture, and of studying present day problems in Greece. They also plan to interest other girls throughout this, and other states, to come to Winthrop.

Membership is extended to all Greek girls, and to others interested, providing that they have a reading and writing knowledge of the Greek language.

Officers of the club include president, Duchess Marcus, vice-president, Katherine Vitsaras, secretary and treasurer Rosalie Leventis, program and social chairman, Argyrie Diasourakis, and faculty advisor, Dr. Dennis Martin.

Other members of the club are Alice Tills, Dorothy Gerakis, Penny Matalos, Mary Erneston, Harriet Magoulas, Phyllis Patrick, Pauline Pallas, Lucille Christopoulos, Patsy Stathopoulos, Tula Phillos, and Rica Phillos.

Rita Watkins, '45 WC Grad Speaks At Meet

Miss Rita Watkins, a 1945 graduate of Winthrop, spoke on Physical Medicine at a joint meeting held by Tri-Beta, national honorary biology club, and Forensic and Scalpel, campus biology club, Tuesday afternoon, February 3.

While at Winthrop Miss Watkins was president of Zeta Alpha and was very active in the Baptist student union. After finishing Winthrop, she won a national infantile paralysis scholarship, which enabled her to study physical therapy at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Miss Watkins is now employed in the Physical Medicine department of Emory university.

International Problems Subject of Books, 7 Speakers to Appear

The International Relations Committee of the American Association of University Women is presenting a series of book review discussions in Johnson hall auditorium every Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m. beginning February 11th. The books deal with international problems and were selected with the help of outstanding specialists in the field.

President Henry R. Sims will open the series with a discussion of "While Time Remains," by Leonard Stone. Mr. Stone is a newspaper man, a Pulitzer Prize winner, and the recipient of honors from governments all the way from France to China.

"The Great Challenge" Discussed

The second discussion will be led by Dr. Hampton Jarrell, February 25th, on "The Great Challenge" by Louis Fischer. Mr. Fischer was correspondent for "Nation" magazine and for 18 years his headquarters were in Russia.

Mrs. R. E. Barron, third speaker, will discuss "Russia on the Wing" by Harrison Salisbury on March 4. Mr. Salisbury was chief of the United Press bureau in Moscow at the time of Eric Johnson's visit to Russia, and he traveled throughout many parts of the Soviet Union with him.

On March 11th, "Report from Red China" by Harrison Forman, will be presented by Mrs. Dorothy Forsythe. The author is an explorer, lecturer, and was war correspondent in the China theater. Also at this time, Miss Margaret Gregg will review "Challenge of Red China" by Guenther Stein.

Albright Speaks

"Thunder Out of China" by Theodore H. White and Annalee Jacoby will be discussed on March 18th by Miss Thelma Albright, from Queen's college. The authors were joint members of the Chungking Bureau for "Time" and "Life" magazines. Their report is based on concentrated study and intimate knowledge. Miss Albright will also discuss "Solution in Asia," by Owen Lattimore.

Dr. Howard Wolfe will discuss the last book in this series March 25th, "Sweden, the Middle Way," written by Marquis Childs, journalist, columnist, and author.

These programs are open to the public. All who are interested in the series are urged to come.

REFERENCES . . . With a low bow and deepest apologies, your new Sports ed grinds a new point on the pencil for the initial Rec Roundup copy. My sole equipment is "Lespin' Lena"—your type-writer personified—inherited from Managing Editor Jess Jones, your ex-sports writer with a 4.0 rating. My great-uncle Nussbaum (no relation to Fred Allen's "typical" housewife) once pecked off the scores and players in press boxes from Albuquerque to Peoria, but he was so slow that they fired him just before rigor mortis set in. So with no other claims to the sports world's hall of fame, assistant Dot Pearman and I clutch the key to the P. E. department door to beat the deadline for you with news straight from Peabody gym.

SCHEDULES AND BLUE JEANS

Registration over, Winthropians donned blue jeans and plaids to stroll the campus after a week of exam-cramming. We saw South's "Shan" Harrison and Virginia Stokes roller-skating with the best of them, and Sarah Smith was among the bicycle fans. Third floor North girls hiked out to the Shack to talk 'n gab 'n speculate on second semester courses, while the rest of the student body slept and caught up on their letter writing. Some even cleaned their rooms, but far be it from us to advocate the dustpan and mop to roller-skating.

THE BARK AND THE BITE!

Speaking of registration blues, one little girl wanted to pay her dollar to change from Miss Chammings' "horror" class, P. E. 37, to aquatic. Seems Miss Chammings gave the marching and gymnastic class a number of requirements during the first period that baffled this sophomore so that she decided to take something a little less strenuous. However, persuasion is a wonderful thing, and the soph kept her dollar. Latest regular have it that the course is really fun.

MR. WEIDMAN TAKES OVER

Charles Weidman's master dance class Monday afternoon marked the thrill of the week for Winthrop's modern dancers. The Weidman grace and modern techniques were carried out exceptionally well, and enthusiastic members say the class was "wonderful." There were approximately 100 spectators who watched the performance from the gym balcony.

BOOMERANG!

Exam papers revealed P. E. sportsters on the humorous side, and freshmen—all the mistakes weren't yours, either. Mrs. Miller's health class had a question on physiology and one student on discussing the placenta. Identified it as the "play center." The folk dance class pulled a boner, too, as Miss Post tells us the "courting dance" was defined by a young lady with stardust in her eyes as the "boy gets girl dance."

EQUESTRAIN NOTES

Junior Emily Baird went to Mount Holly last weekend to visit Parkland Princess who is in winter training there under Mr. Connell. Emily says she hasn't ridden her horse in six months, and the Princess is getting ready for the spring horse shows. One of the Princess's showings will be in Charlotte, N. C., where Parkland Princess will be entered in the fine harness group.

FACE DOWN

Drilling last Monday in the Shacking Tactics class was senior Dot Lee who literally "tripped the light fantastic." They tell us after a quick right turn she made a five-point landing on the slippery floor. Dot bravely picked herself up, though, which just goes to prove that it's easy to fall when you have the "know how."

JUST ONE BIG FAMILY

Miss Julia Post, physical education head, declares that her department is really just one big happy family. George Aull and Johnny Moore are the P. E. husbands, and there's even a grandson—Johnny Moore, Jr. Miss Post's cat, "Peanut," still likes to visit the gym occasionally, and is quite a favorite pet among the girls.

COME ON OVER!

Hope you'll be over at the gym during the coming week to watch the dormitory basketball games—these teams are really worth watching. Chairman Eunice Erwin promises some exciting games, so latch onto the schedules!

Breazeale Leads Cage Tournney

Breazeale hall caged the Roddey squad when the two teams clashed in the first dormitory basketball game of the season on January 21 in the gym. Senior and Norin tied for a score later the same afternoon.

The Breazeale team copped a score of 31-19 over the Roddeytes, and the Senior-North play was a 19-19 tie. The dormitory games will run through February 12, after which class teams will be selected for competitive tournaments beginning on February 21.

The following schedule has been announced for the dormitory basketball games:

Wednesday, February 5—4:00—Roddey vs. North, 5:00—Senior vs. Town girls and South.

Friday, February 7—4:00—North vs. Town girls and South, 5:00—Breazeale vs. Senior.

Monday, February 10—4:00—Roddey vs. Town girls and South, 5:00—North vs. Breazeale.

Wednesday, February 12—4:00—Roddey vs. Senior, 5:00—Town girls and South vs. Breazeale.

Open practice will be observed on Friday, February 14; Monday, February 17, and Wednesday, February 19. The hours will be scheduled later.

Senior Eunice Erwin, chairman of the basketball club, announces that everyone is invited to attend the game to cheer her dormitory on to victory.

Camp Placement Bureau Receives Applications

Applications are now being received at the Winthrop camp placement bureau, Miss Viola Mit-hell, head of the service and physical education instructor, announced this week. There are many positions open in all types of activities, and requests have been registered for music, commerce, sociology, and home economics majors as well as for physical education majors.

Miss Mitchell will be in her office every afternoon Monday through Friday, and may be seen by appointment at other times. There will be no charge for camp registration.

Modern Dance Group At Practice

Weidman Ties Knots In Master Modern Dancers

By DOT PEARMAN

Approximately 50 aspiring prima ballerinas filled into the gym Monday afternoon at 4:15 modishly attired in leotards and bare feet. Charles Weidman and six members of the dance group held a master modern dance class at this time, and literally tied the group in knots.

Demonstrates Technique

Mr. Weidman explained, in words of one syllable, the exercises and then had one of his group demonstrate it for the class. To a novice it sounded like the group was to "pick up both feet, keep legs straight in front, and run." Fortunately it didn't look like that!

After the explanation of an exercise, the class, accompanied by Mr. Weidman at the drums and Miss Freda Miller at the piano, followed the lead of the members in Weidman's company. There were floor patterns and jumps which later developed into leaps. At the end of an hour and a half of this torture, Bette Stribling ex—"ohhh!"

NOTICE

The Sunday recreational program will be sponsored in the gym from 2:30 till 5:00 p. m. each week. Nell Bushardt and Dell Eaddy will be in charge of the gym Sunday, February 9.

Recreational facilities are provided for the students and everyone is invited to take advantage of the opportunity.

Assistants Named

Pauline Palles and Kathryn McConnell have been named student teachers for tennis and swimming, respectively, it was announced this week by physical education head, Miss Julia Post.

They will teach regular physical education College classes.

Bicycle Drive Sponsored By WAA Slated

A bicycle drive is being sponsored by the WAA for the purpose of obtaining bicycles for the use of Winthrop students in their recreation. "Kat" McConnell, senior physical education major, is chairman of the drive which begins this week and will run for an indefinite period of time.

"Kat" announces that the bicycles can be gotten through the cooperation of the Montag company, makers of Blue Horse products. Each student is asked to save the covers of Blue Horse notebook paper and composition books and give them to the dormitory chairman. When enough of the covers have been received they will be exchanged for as many bicycles as possible.

Boxes will be placed in each dormitory to receive the covers, and since the privilege of being able to use the bicycles will be given to everyone, full cooperation is expected.

The dormitory chairmen are Bobby Whitlock, Roddey; Bette Hesse, Breazeale; Emmie Evans, South, and Dot Allen, North. Jo Ann Knox was named Bancroft worker, and Edith McCallum will be the Senior hall chairman.

"This program is being sponsored for the recreation and convenience of every Winthrop student, and the success of the plan is up to the girls," chairman McConnell said. Everyone is urged to help the WAA with their project.

Limbs Are Victors In Badminton Contest

The Leaves were raked up by the Limbs with a score of 15-11 in the Badminton tournament played on January 13, during the last class first semester, it was announced by Miss Julia Post, head of the PE department, this week.

The Limbs, composed of Virginia Ashe, Betty Armstrong, and Erleen Stevenson, were unbeaten during the tournament which was played during the first semester. The Leaves included Betty L. Campbell, Dot Crawford, and Margaret Frazier, who won 14 games and lost six.

And what did you get for Christmas? Please signify by raising the third finger, left hand. Just exactly what I expected. This social campus is positively wealthy! Want the world to know it? Sorry no fanfare of trumpets, from lack of talent that is, but the announcement will fit here perfectly. Try it and see. This columnist will have an ear to the ground waiting to hear from you. If I may add, a mighty uncomfortable position.

... Of People

OF SHOES, OF SHIPS

Maybe they didn't sail, but they did wear shoes, and they did pack up and leave. Belvin Seese followed the signposts to Spartanburg, Hilda and Edna Team to Camden, Dot Sistrar to Lancaster, and Whitney Lawrence to Anderson. Heading for a rare time with The Ones were Lilla Dukes via Orangeburg, and Bette King, Lancaster.

Along crews were Dorothy Brunson who took Ruth Osborne to Sumter, Rachel McKeister with Peggy Johnson to Clinton, and Lillian showing May Chandler and Miriam Jordan, Simpsonville versa. Dropping in on a last year graduate, Juanita Feenbush, was Margaret Seese.

OF SEALING WAX

It seems that different people are still getting married every day, and among these present were Helen Alexander in Bishopville for her brother's wedding; Evelyn Johnson as maid-of-honor in her sister's wedding at Williston; Connie Shealy carrying flowers for her sister in Orangeburg; and Mary Winchester with permission for Bamberg and Daisy William's ceremony.

OF CABINAGES AND KINGS

Of those who ignored weed and blues for obvious reasons in the masculine pander, were Margaret Cauthen, Sis Dinkins, Lib Johnson, Betty Brooks, Faye Foster and Louise Head. Sitting in the middle section at the Artist course were Marie Sullenger, Gene Murdock, Margie Haynes, Jean Graham, and Linnie Hynds.

... Of Things

OF MEN

Despite exams, a few lucky ones who took time out for Clemson's Military ball were "Butch" Carpenter, Mary Cowan, Trisix Lutz, Janet Fleming, and Issett Agnew, who was a sponsor.

OF MICE?

Definitely not members of the Mighty and Mystical Order of Mice were the brave mortals who ventured to the shack Saturday night after that picture, with a capital I. Among those who went forth were Adams, Nancy Schroder, Mary Jane Haynes, Dot Allen, Lucille Lachicola, Norma Wilcox, Wanda Trussdale, and Gales Grier.

OF CURTAIN CALLS

Bringing us up to date with celebrations was the January birthday dinner in the Dining hall for the faculty guests. "Surprise!" was the theme in South's kitchen when Alice Knott walked in on her birthday party. And wasn't the same expression evident on the face of Miss Frances Crouch, Bessie's hostess when the voice of the Midnight Dancing party dedicated to her and all the Bessie-girls a most fitting tune, "Open the Door, Richard?" Natural!

Annual Freshman Hop To Be Tomorrow Night

Billy Burns Orchestra To Furnish Music

The annual "Rat Hop" for freshmen will take place tomorrow evening, February 8, beginning at 8 o'clock in Johnson hall. Billy Burns and his orchestra of Columbia will furnish the dance music. Four no-breaks are scheduled for the evening.

Invitations have been issued to Clemson, Carlisle, Davidson, and The Citadel. Board members, "Y" counselors, and their roommates have also been invited.

Receiving Line

The receiving line will consist of Dot Smith, Jane Haddie, Ginny Prothro and Edna Team, freshman officers and their escorts; President and Mrs. Henry R. Sims; Mrs. Kate G. Hardin; Mrs. Ethel Moyers; Dr. Dennis Martin; Mary Stanley, SGA president, and her escort; and Miss Frances Crouch, Miss Lila Denton, and Miss Martha Alderson, freshman dormitory hostesses.

A Valentine motif will be carried out in the decorations, according to Patsy May, chairman of the decorations committee. Included on the committee are Virginia Fouche, Betty Hesse, Patricia Bowie, Liz Sharrill, Betty Jean Ballentine, Ginny Prothro, Kitty Lewis, June Jones, Mary Lou Lewis, and Martha Ann Tharrington.

London fog and cookies will be served at intermission with Mary Ann Martin, chairman of the refreshments committee, in charge. The refreshment committee is composed of Jean Hyatt, Virginia Tinsley, Patsy Hunt, Joanne Sloan, Clara Ann Moss, Ruthie Williams, and Dot Duckworth.

The invitations and tickets committee includes Ethel Boswell, chairman, Lou Oswald, Sara Eleazer, Betty Sharpe, and Harriett Plowden.

Jane Gamble is chairman of the dance roster committee, and her committee is Jackie Boone, "Shorty" Graham, and Barbara Fagan, Chaperones.

Chaperones for the dance are President and Mrs. Henry R. Sims, Mrs. Kate G. Hardin, Miss Ethel Moyers, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Kelly, Miss Alice Tingley, Miss Katherine Pfohl, Miss Ruth Stephenson, Dr. and Mrs. John Harold Wolfe, Miss Iva Bishop, Dr. Dennis Martin, Miss Elizabeth Miller, Miss Lila Denton, Miss Frances Crouch, and Miss Martha Alderson.

Johnson Hall Proves To Be Campus Hub Center

By MARJORIE HARRELL

Have you heard about all the fun that you can find over in Johnson hall, or have you neglected exploring this center of campus social life? If you haven't been to Johnson hall lately, investigate for yourself. The hostesses are always delighted to help you at any time.

Everyone has probably attended a vesper service in the auditorium or a club meeting in one of the many beautiful rooms available for this purpose. Rooms are always waiting for meetings and parties, but meetings have priority over other activities.

Cook or Play

Johnson hall is not here for orrisnized groups alone. This building offers many opportunities for private gatherings or parties.

There are three kitchens, a small dining room, and a cafeteria—for big "spreads." If you want to play games, table games, including table tennis, can be played; or you may bring your own cards for a game of bridge. Incidentally, the "rec" room snack bar is open every Sunday.

If it's music you want, here is the place to go. In the lobby you will find a useful cabinet model radio and phonograph with a large record collection. Two pianos are also available for those who want to make their own music.

Maybe you would like to spend a while doing some quiet reading or studying? Take a trip through the magazines in the hall, office, library, and "rec" room; or settle down with a good book in the library.

Sewing Facilities Offered

Do you like to whip up a little something to wear once in a while? If so, ever hear about the sewing room on second floor which contains electric machines for you to use?

To the girls who were unable to go home between semesters Johnson hall was a welcome haven. Open house was held Saturday from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. Students and their guests made merry with games and coffee.

Whether you want to play, study, sew, or have a period of quiet meditation, Johnson hall's the place!

Formal Dance Is Given By Moore's Class

Members of Mrs. Polly Moore's social dancing class had a formal dance January 18, in Johnson hall, as their final examinations for the first semester.

Chaperons who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Brice Waters, Mrs. Ethel Moyers, Dr. Dennis Martin, Dr. and Mrs. Austin Venable, Mr. and Mrs. Barron Nichols, Miss Stella Bradford, Miss Julia Weil, Miss Florence Goodrich, Mrs. Louise Miller, and Dr. and Mrs. Brooks Anderson.

Valentine decorations were used with hearts placed at various places throughout the building. Charlotte Able, chairman of refreshments, presided at the punch bowl, during intermission.

"To Each His Own" Is Saturday Movie

"To Each His Own," starring Olivia DeHavilland and introducing John Lund, will be the College movie Saturday night.

The plot is a tender, moving depiction of a woman's heartbreak and sacrifices as she lives the years between starry-eyed young girlhood and lonely middle-age. It is the story of Jody Norris, dreamer of romantic dreams, who believes that one great love must come to all women.

Etiquette Week

At breakfast there will be open tables in order to eliminate waste of food and give to each Dining hall girl one free morning each month. Students will stand until grace has been sung. "Seconds" of food will not be given until five minutes after everyone is seated after singing grace.

Seniors, acting as hostesses, will serve the main dish at meals, with other students helping the additional dishes as plates are passed down one side of the table. One girl on the hostess's right will be delegated to refill serving dishes from the kitchen. Courses are to be eaten at the same time, and students will leave the table at the same time.

Good manners on the campus, in the dormitories, while traveling, in the classroom, and in Rock Hill are to be stressed in an assembly program, Tuesday, February 11. A movie on etiquette at a dance was shown to the freshmen in advance of their "Rat" hop. Miss Sarah Cragwell, head of the home economics department, also brought other phases of etiquette to their attention.

Sociology Seniors Doing Case Work

Thirteen seniors comprise the list of case workers in the sociology department who are taking a pre-professional course in case work this semester. Two days a week these girls go to an assigned place and work there for four and a half weeks, after which they rotate and exchange places, according to Dr. Allen Edwards of the sociology department.

The list of these case workers and their assignments shows various phases of community life in which they must learn to work. Ila Cribb is working at the Methodist church in Rock Hill; Edith Mays at the Rock Hill Red Cross; Hilda McRae and Linabel Kenney are assigned to St. Philip's hospital, and with the York County Welfare department are Vivian Young, Garylbel Windell, Gertrude Lewis, and Laura Sheldon.

In Charlotte, Betty Leathers works with the Mecklenburg Agency for the Blind, and Frankie Floyd, Jean Graham, Roberta Neighbors, and Margaret Sease with the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court.

Scholarship

editor of The Tatler; Billye Reddic of Augusta, Ga., chairman of the Dance committee; Whitney Lawrence, Anderson, vice-president of the Student Government association.

Kappa Delta Pi To Initiate Four Students

Four new members have received bids to Kappa Delta Pi, the national education society. They are Mary Ellen Campbell, Pelzer; Mary Eloise Herbert, Anderson; Doris N. Slatore, Lancaster, and Gladys June Lewis, Winnsboro. The initiation for new members has been set for February 13.

To be eligible for Kappa Delta Pi, a student must be a junior, in the upper-fourth of her class scholastically, and she must have had 6 hours of education work. She must also have promised to do further work in the field of education.

Officers of the society are Anita Hughey, president; Sarah Hardin, vice president; Katherine Bland, secretary; Alice Ann Kelly, treasurer, and Jean Graham, historian reporter.

tion; Mary Lay Ewing, Augusta, Ga., editor of The Johnsonian first semester, and Hilda Brockman of Spartanburg, president of senior class complete the 18 representatives.

The selection of these seniors is made each year on the basis of their qualities of leadership, character and scholarship. "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" is an annual publication.

Miss McDill Joins Demonstration Staff

Miss Janice McDill is a new member of the personnel of the State Home Demonstration department. She is replacing the vacancy left when Miss Carrie Carson, the former nutrition specialist, left the department in December to be married.

Miss McDill is a graduate of Erskine college and received her Master's Degree from Cornell university. Before coming to Winthrop, she was the Home Demonstration Agent for Marlboro county.

DR. WHEELER SPEAKS
Dr. Paul M. Wheeler, head of the English department, was the guest speaker for the Ladies' night program of the Rotary club in Woodruff, Tuesday night, February 4. His subject was "These Women."

DACUS ADDED TO LIBRARY STAFF

Miss Ruth Dacus of Rock Hill has been added to the library staff as the new circulation assistant. She is a Winthrop graduate, and had further study at the Library School of Peabody college.

Miss Dacus has done school library work and was assistant librarian in the Atlanta Public Library. Before coming here, Miss Dacus was camp librarian at Fort Knox, Ky.
